

ARBITRATION NOT STRIKES.

The men employed in the coke works at Scottsdale, Pennsylvania, many of whom were Hungarians alleged to have been imported, demanded an advance in wages. Their employers refused to concede to the demand, and a strike resulted. The workmen threatened to destroy the works and a reign of terror ensued. Order was in a measure restored by the presence of the state militia, several companies of whom were sent to the scene of the disturbance. As the employers owned, not only the huts in which the strikers lived, but the ground on which they were built, they were driven out by Pinkerton men, the Governor refusing to order the State troops to assist in the evictions.

The cost of the strike to date is estimated at $3,500,000 and the end is not yet, though some of the plants have resumed work, the owners having made concessions to the strikers.

As strikes rarely result beneficially to those engaged in them, several labor organizations are endeavoring to prevent them by settling differences by arbitration. Among those which have taken the initiative in this movement are the Conductors', Firemen's, Brakemen's and Switchmen's organizations, representatives of which have formed a federation which they expect to induce the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to join. Should they succeed in doing so they hope to prevent strikes on railroads in the future by settling by arbitration all differences that may arise.

UNWILLING TO RECEIVE BLAIR.

Ex-Senator Blair, recently appointed Minister to China, told some truths about Chinese immigration in a speech delivered by him when Senator. The Chinese Government heard of the speech and now notifies the State Department that it does not want Mr. Blair at Peking. If Secretary Blaine has the backbone he is credited with he will declare the Chinese Embassy vacant until the Child of the Sun is willing to receive the Minister whom the President appoints to represent the United States at his Court. Mr. Blair as Senator only voiced the sentiment of a large majority of the people of the United States in his speech, and if the Emperor of China has been led to believe otherwise he should be undeceived by the Administration.

A man who represents the sentiments of the people of this country, not one who will play the sycophant to a despot, is the person to send to China, and as Mr. Blair's speech in Congress was approved by the people his commission should not be revoked because the truths which he told are displeasing to an ear accustomed only to the honeyed words of flatterers.

THE MANIPUR MASSACRE.

Now comes Mrs. Grimwood, wife of the late political agent at Manipur, in British India, and states that the disaster in which her husband and many others lost their lives, was due to the rashness of Commissioner Quinton in refusing to listen to sensible advice given him in regard to negotiations with native chiefs. Quinton endeavored to entrap Senaputti, a brother of the deposed Maharajah, with the intention of putting him under arrest. Senaputti, learning of this, planned a trap for the British and caught them.

Mrs. Grimwood's story has caused severe reflections to be cast upon the management of the Manipur incident, which cost many lives and threatened a general insurrection against British rule in a part of India. It shows that breach-clouted natives can play at games of deception as well as white men and some times more successfully than the enlightened pale face.

It is now eight years since the rebuilding of the navy was undertaken, and the net result has been the authorization of forty-three vessels of various classes, from a torpedo boat to a line-of-battle ship. These include twelve armored vessels, viz: Four battle ships, five monitors, one harbor defense vessel and two armored cruisers—besides which a cruising monitor was also authorized. With good luck, it is hoped to have them all in commission in 1894.

Both Houses of the Michigan Legislature have passed a bill which provides for the election of Presidential electors by Congressional Districts instead of the State at large. In Colorado Presidential electors were chosen at one time by the Legislature, as they also were until recently in South Carolina. The method of appointing Presidential electors is discretionary with the Legislatures of the several States, and the Michigan way is about the fairest yet proposed.

Secretary Rusk, of the Department of Agriculture, tells Washington reporters that he does not think Mr. Blaine will be a candidate for President. Clarkson and several others who have been interviewed on the subject express similar opinions. It seems that Mr. Blaine is not accessible to Washington reporters or they would tell the people what he says on the subject.

The recent terrible accident on the Lake Shore Railroad, in which seven postal clerks were burned to death, has spread consternation among the clerks in postal cars on the eastern roads, and eleven of them have resigned at Goshen, Indiana.

News of Importance From Home and Abroad.

The President Visits the Big Trees and Returns to San Francisco.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—President Harrison received an enthusiastic welcome at Santa Cruz this morning on his way from Monterey to this city. He was given a reception at the Pacific Ocean Hotel where he delivered a short address. After receiving the school children and the Grand Army veterans the party were taken to the big trees on a special train and on returning to Santa Cruz resumed their journey to San Francisco. The next stop was at Los Gatos, where the President was escorted to a decorated stand near the railroad track and made a brief speech. The party soon left for San Francisco.

The President in addressing the Chamber of Commerce said: I am glad to stand in the presence of this assemblage of business men. I have tried to make this a business administration. [Applause.] Of course we cannot wholly separate politics from the national administration, but I have felt that every public officer owed his best services to the people without distinction to party [Cries of good, good, and applause.] that in administering the official trusts we were in a very strict sense, not merely in a figurative sense, your servants. It has been my desire that in every branch of public service there should be an improvement. I have stimulated all Secretaries and have received stimulus from them in the endeavor, and in all departments of government that touch your business life to give you its perfect service as possible. [Cries of good, good, and applause.] This we owe to you, but if I were pursuing party ends I should feel that I was by such methods establishing my party in the confidence of the people. [Applause.] I feel that we have come to the point where American industries, American commerce and American influence are to be revived and extended. [Applause.] American feeling and sentiment was never more controlling than now and I do not use that term in the narrow sense of a native American, but to embrace all loyal citizens whether native born or adopted who have the love of our flag in their hearts. [Great cheering.]

Postmaster General Wanamaker and Secretary Rusk were then called upon for speeches and responded in a vein that caused much laughter and applause. After lunch the President proceeded to Mechanic's Pavilion, where the local posts of the Grand Army of the Republic held their May Day festival. The Pavilion was gaily decorated and crowded with spectators.

The banquet at the Palace Hotel to-night in honor of President Harrison was attended by 250 guests. The affair was conducted on an elaborate scale and was the closing feature of the President's visit to this city. On the table occupied by the President was a bank of roses fifteen feet long and three feet wide. Other tables were also decorated with a large number of flowers. The menu cards were beautifully engraved and contained representations of various points of interest in California. The principal speech of the evening was made by the President.

The Tobacco Tax.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Under the provisions of the McKinley Tariff Act, beginning to-day, all special taxes imposed upon dealers in leaf tobacco, dealers in manufactured tobacco, manufacturers of tobacco and cigars and peddlers are repealed. The law, however, requires that these various classes of dealers shall register their names, places of business, etc. with the local Collector of Internal Revenue, with the exception of dealers in manufactured tobacco. A number of dealers of the latter class, according to the report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for 1890 was 603,038 who paid a tax of $2.40 each. It is said at the department that the abolition of this special tax of $2.40 will cause a loss to the Government of $1,600,000 annually.

Three Girls Burned to Death.

Special to the Journal.

New York, May 1.—Three young girls were burned to death, and two other persons were badly burned at the fire in the fireworks factory in Morrisania this afternoon. The flames started by an explosion of powder. They spread rapidly and in a few seconds the entire building was on fire. Millie Hammond, nineteen years old, Mary Lynch, 17 years old, and Jennie Harpley, seventeen years old, were burned to death in sight of the crowd. George Kramer, forty years old, and Lottie Harry, fourteen years old, were badly burned.

Hungarians Frightened.

Special to the Journal.

WEST NEWTON, Pa., May 1.—An emigrant train, carrying 100 Hungarians to the coke plants, collided with a light engine to-night, Fireman Stewart being fatally injured and several other men seriously. A terrible panic prevailed among the Hungarians who imagined they had been attacked by the strikers.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the systemic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced."

Elle Ellen, some years ago one of the most prominent lumbermen in Truckee, died yesterday afternoon.

The Truckee is booming, and the water now going to waste, if stored in the mountains, would irrigate a country.

The Courier says twelve head of cattle, belonging to John Baldwin, of Genoa, died from eating wild lupine.

At the Bay District track Thursday Ap- please, a horse well known in Reno, won the one and one-sixteenth mile race. Time 1:47 3/4.

J. B. Haggis, who is in New York, says he has not sold the Anaconda mines, and is not going to sell them and has no dealings with the Rothschilds.

The Hawthorne Bulletin says: Miss Julia Moore died in Bodis last week from the effects of ether administered to allay the pain caused by a dental operation.

The Free Lance, published by Frank Sisson, will not be issued this week, but an interesting number, of which a large edition will be printed, will be issued next week.

The Chronicle says the act consolidating certain county offices in Storey county and fixing the salaries thereof is badly muddled, worse in fact, than the school law, if that is possible.

Foreman Sullivan had a gash eight inches long out in his right arm by the point of a sharp pick, which one of the section men was wielding, as he passed him, on the C. P. near Battle Mountain.

The Central Nevada says a band of 275 horses passed Battle Mountain Wednesday. They were purchased in Paradise Valley at an average price of $12 per head and were being driven to Kansas City.

H. E. Dell was shot and killed by S. J. Fore at the Gold Hill mine, near Baker City, Oregon, last Thursday. The trouble arose over a mining claim which Fore had taken up and which Dell had jumped.

The rather remarkable fact is brought to light by official statistics that there were over 450,000 voters in the State of New York who took the trouble last year to register but did not take the subsequent trouble to vote.

Charles H. Adams, a prominent young business man of Portland, Me., is stopping at the Clarendon. Mr. Adams has read and heard a great deal of Reno as a bright, go-ahead business city, and stopped over to look about with a possible view of going into business.

W. B. McGuire and Thomas Kenyon are hauling ore from their mines at Eagleville, Churchill county, to Austin for reduction. Mr. McGuire's ore worked 1 1/2 ounces in gold and 53 ounces in silver per ton, and Mr. Kenyon's ore worked $80 in gold per ton at the Leslie Sampling Works.

The coinage of standard silver dollars authorized by the Act of 1873 has been discontinued. That is the order of the Treasury Department. It is unnecessary to ask what the real friends of silver think about it, but the pretended friends of the metal will, of course, endeavor to make it appear that it is good for the country.

The most complete collection of desert-inhabiting mammals ever secured has been obtained by the members of Death Valley expedition, covering over 2,000 specimens, among which are many new species. In the collection of birds the range has been extended, so far as some of them are concerned. In the botanical flora a most complete collection of desert flora has been obtained and the limits of vegetation have been determined. The entomologist reports the valleys barren of insects, but plenty in the mountains and canyons.

The Virginia Chronicle says: Since the abolishment by the last Legislature of the County Salary Fund all county moneys collected are turned into the General Fund, and the county officials have no way of securing their monthly salaries. Heretofore sufficient money was always transferred to the Salary Fund to secure the payment of official salaries, but the officers will have to take their chances now with the balance of the county's creditors.

The State Board of Examiners report in the State Treasury April 30th, $264,789 30 in coin; $22,810 40 in paid coin vouchers; $380,000 irredeemable Nevada State School bond; $157,000 in Nevada State bonds, and $500,000 in United States bonds. The bonds, which belong to the school fund, aggregate $1,037,000, of which the State owes $537,000, and the report does not say whether the coin belongs to the State, or to the school fund or to both.

The assertion that "the railroad depot is absolutely filthy" does the employee a gross injustice. N. J. Roff, who attends to the depot building, does his work well, as everybody who enters the waiting rooms will testify, and Foreman Cronan has the yard cleaned and swept daily. It is not the fault of the men, whose duty it is to keep the depot and its surroundings clean, that the building looks uninviting because of its low, projecting roof; the architect, not the yard men, is to blame for that.

The largest planting of trees in Nevada this Spring, says the Central Nevada, has just been completed at the ranch of Wm. Stock, four miles east of the town of Paradise, Humboldt county. Eighteen years ago he planted some poplar sprigs in front of his residence, which have grown to immense trees nearly three feet thick. From these he cut 3,000 sprigs five years ago which are now six inches in diameter. Beginning with Arbor Day he began the permanent planting and arranging of the trees around his home and orchard on Martin Creek. In a few years Mr. Stock will have a forest of poplars on his place.

The May Day Entertainment.

The entertainment given by the pupils of the High School at the Pavilion last night began promptly at 8 o'clock, there being a large audience in attendance. The programme was carried out as follows:

Instrumental duet, Clayton's March, by Gertrude Kline and Belle Kelson; vocal solo, "More than Tongue can Tell," by Mabel Stanaway; recitation, "The Crooked Stick," by Lottie Armstrong; vocal solo, "The Proposal," by Miss Grace E. Watson; recitation, "The Necessity of Union," by Fred E. Wells; chorus, "Come Back Sweet May," by the Class; all of which were very interesting and well rendered.

The May-pole dance was the feature of the evening's entertainment, being participated in by 28 young ladies of the High School Department, who danced various quadrille figures around the pole until the May Queen (Miss Belle Little), escorted by her six little maids of honor, two pages and four swordsmen put in her appearance, when six couples of boys and girls began the May-pole dance proper, winding and interlacing the different colored ribbons around the pole with very pretty effects. After this the hall was cleared for dancing, which was kept up until a late hour. Altogether the entertainment was a financial, as well as a social success, and a credit to the teachers and pupils of the High School, and will be long remembered by all who participated.

THE CARSON ELECTION.

The First to be Held Under the New Law.

The Tribune says: Considerable interest is being manifested in the city election which will take place in Carson next Monday, as it is the first held under the new election law.

The booths for the use of voters are in place, and sample ballots may be procured from the County Clerk.

For Trustee-at-Large (or Mayor, as the office is usually called), T. R. Hofer, present incumbent, and Hyman Olcovich are candidates.

In the First Ward, the present Trustee, Jacob Klein, has no opposition.

THATCHER'S MINSTRELS.

Will Appear at McKisick's Opera House, Saturday, May 9th.

C. H. Beede, in advance of George Thatcher's minstrel, arrived in the city last evening.

This famous company will appear here next Saturday, May 9th. Reno's pride and America's favorite tenor singer, Richard J. Jose, heads the vocal corps, and his numerous friends and admirers will have a chance to hear him at his best, as Mr. Beede assures us his voice was never better. The other singers are Raymon Moore, tenor balladist, a native of San Francisco, whose popularity throughout the country is next to "Dick's;" H. W. Frillman, the eminent basso; Thomas Lewis, baritone and W. A. Patterson. Among the comedians are George Thatcher, whose reputation as a fun maker is world wide; Burt Shepard, a comedian of rare intelligence and ability; John A. Coleman, English comedian and eccentric dancer; Jay Quigley, George Lewis and Ed Marble. Wood and Shepard, the famous musical comedians; Frank La Mondue, king of the slack wire; Gregory and Elmar and a host of others, comprise the unequalled novelties that are introduced. Lovers of refined and original minstrelsy cannot afford to miss this performance of George Thatcher's Minstrels.

RIVER OBSERVATIONS.

They Will be Made in Nevada if an Appropriation is Secured.

Through the courtesy of D. C. Granow, Signal Corps, U. S. A., the JOURNAL has received extracts from the annual report of the Chief Signal officer. In the report for Nevada it says: Should an appropriation be secured for the purpose the coming year it is thought river observations will be commenced at points on the Carson, Reese, Truckee, Humboldt, Virgin, Walker and other rivers, with a view of ascertaining the annual flow, as well as the periods of highest and lowest water. That this is an important matter is manifest when it is known that the greater amount of water in these streams pass down at a season of the year when it cannot be utilized for irrigation, and it will also have an important bearing upon the irrigation question, which is receiving much attention in this State at the present time.

Two Pretty English Words.

The Chicago Post says: "There are some queer things about words when you come to know them intimately," said Dr. Cowles, stroking his long light beard reflectively. "Now, one would naturally conclude that words of fifteen or twenty syllables, such as basiokeratochondroglossus, the name of a muscle at the root of the tongue, and daerycoystozingotomy, the name of a surgical operation on the tear duct of the eye, would be most difficult for the lexicographer to manage. Nothing could be farther from the fact. The most difficult words we have to define are those of two and three letters. The truth is, like some people, they are so simple that there is nothing by which you can possibly describe them."

The Cautious Judge.

In a town up North an ex-Judge is cashier of a bank. One day recently he refused to cash a check offered by a stranger.

"The check is all right," he said, "but the evidence you offer in identifying yourself as the person to whose order it is drawn is scarcely sufficient."

"I've known you to hang a man on less evidence, Judge," was the stranger's response.

"Quite likely," replied the ex-Judge, "but when it comes to letting go of cold cash we have to be careful."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Toledo, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions. Yours truly,

L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.,

Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

pear from the complaint which is on file in the Self Acting Paper Cutter.

A Calcutta newspaper relates an incident which illustrates the magnificent way in which the rajahs of India—or at least those of them who remain opulent and powerful—repay a small debt. Not long ago the Rajah Holkar, of Indore, in paying a visit to the viceroy, the Marquis of Lansdowne, at Calcutta, was shown by the marquis several of the London illustrated newspapers. In cutting the leaves of these journals, Lord
Lansdowne used an ivory paper cutter.

The rajah had never seen a paper cutter before and was much interested in the little instrument.

"If your excellency will make me a present of it," he said, "I will send you another in exchange."

The viceroy promptly gave his guest the paper cutter, and the rajah returned with it to his own dominions.

Lord Lansdowne had almost forgotten
the incident when he received notice that the rajah's return gift was on the way, and he was presently astonished to have brought to him a young and handsome elephant, each of whose tusks had been skillfully wrought into the shape of a paper cutter.

A servant brought some illustrated
newspapers, at which the elephant seized with his trunk and proceeded very skillfully to cut the leaves with his sharply trimmed tusks. He had been trained to this accomplishment under the rajah's orders.

The living paper cutter, it is understood, is still in Lord Lansdowne's possession, but it is not one of the ordinary furnishings of the viceroy's library. For his customary opening of books and newspapers he keeps a less bulky implement.—Youth's Companion.

Why Russia Persecutes the Jews.

The principal grounds upon which the Russian justifies the persecution of his Hebrew brother are as follows. He asserts: First—That the Jews are too rapacious and too successful in getting money and property away from the surrounding Christians. Second—That they hold themselves, as a class, apart from the rest of the community. Third—That they furnish many of the leading nihilists and mischief makers. Fourth—That they evade service in the army and do not become patriotic Russians.

The first accusation may be ignored,
as it amounts simply to saying that the Jew is shrewder and more intelligent than his neighbors of other races. As to the Jew's refusal to mingle more freely
with his neighbors of different creeds, or, in other words, to assimilate with the population, it cannot be said that he has as yet received any very warm invitation to do anything of the kind. He has been chased like a beast of prey for centuries, and now he is asked why he does not like his persecutors.

The charge of nihilism is perfectly true, to the extent that the Jews naturally furnish their proportionate quota to the malcontents who have the courage to act. But that the Jews among the nihilists exceed their proper proportion to the whole population is denied by many trustworthy writers. The charge that the Jew evades army service is disproved by official statistics.—P. G.
Hubert, Jr., in Forum.

Her Royal Sweetness.

To be called Her Royal Highness is the destiny of every woman born to wear a crown, but it remains for one woman among all the royal families to have the endearing title of Her Royal Sweetness given to her, and that honor belongs to Alexandra, Princess of Wales.
She has that marvelous art of making goodness seem attractive; of making the right act the pleasant one and of impressing upon all who know her the knowledge that to do good is to have a pleasant time, and not to do it to miss some of the pleasure of life.

Many princesses have been written about as having been beautiful, as having caused great wars, as having done great deeds of valor, of having made men die for them and kingdoms quarrel over them, but of none of them can it be said, as it is of this gracious lady, that the whole world bows down before sweetness and goodness, that peace has been the watchword of her life; and not only does she value peace, but those loving sisters, Faith, Hope and Charity, abide with her.—Lady Elizabeth Hilary
in Ladies' Home Journal.

A Scotch student had a curious method of studying. He spread out his books where the hearth rug would naturally have been, and lay there at full length, learning his task by the light of a fire made from roots of decayed trees which he had dug in a wood near Edinburgh and carried to his lodgings.

It is easy enough to smile when you tread upon rose leaves; but try it when each step leaves blood prints upon the thorns. Some of the lines in your face may curve downward then.
